The Client/ Therapist Relationship

Our relationship is one of mutual respect as a client and therapist. Matthew does not date clients or develop sexually intimate relationships with his clients. The type of work that is offered is strictly therapeutic. If at any time you intend or attempt to make the session sexual in nature Matthew reserves the right to terminate the session immediately and full payment will be required.

Hygiene and Materials Used

Massage works best with a body that is clean and does not have any residual effects from perspiration due to exercise. Matthew will always do his best to be clean and without body odors or cologne. He appreciates the same from his clients. Cotton sheets are used that are changed and sanitized with each client. Matthew understands that some clients may be allergic to or see the potential for reactions to the sheets, cream or are sensitive to certain smells. If this is the case for you, please let him know in advance of the session. Alternatives to these products can be discussed and the room can be purified of any odors.

Confidentiality

Your confidentiality is honored completely and it is understood that what happens during the session is between you and Matthew and not for anyone else to know. The only exception being that if Matthew were to be subpoenaed, (usually concerning health insurance cases), he is required by law to submit client charts and information. In regard to chance meetings in public between clients and Matthew, he makes it a point never to discuss the condition of the client. He will also not inquire as to how you are feeling in regard to any specific bodywork. Matthew leaves it up to you if you decide to initiate any conversation along the lines of your therapy. In that situation he is always open to answering any questions.

Scope of Practice

It is not within the scope of practice to make a diagnosis, prescribe for specific conditions, or offer counseling. Raining Faith Massage has a complete referral network of health practitioners to refer clients to in the case of conditions that are beyond its capabilities and scope of practice.

Intoxicants

Massage and bodywork can accelerate the use of intoxicants. It is recommended that you abstain from any alcohol for six hours prior to your massage. Any fluids taken following the session should be caffeine and alcohol free. Those that do not act as a diuretic and counter effect the work of the session. If you arrive under the influence of alcohol or any other intoxicants it is not safe to proceed with the massage. Forfeiture of the session and full payment will be requested at that time. Out of respect for you, Matthew will always be free of any intoxicants while he is working with you.

Please list any concerns or any other information that you feel will help me to serve you better. _____

On the figure below please indicate any area where you are currently experiencing pain and/ or discomfort.

It is my choice to receive massage therapy. I realize that the treatment is being given for the well being of my body and mind. This includes stress reduction, relief from muscular tension, spasm or pain, or for increasing circulation or energy flow. I agree to communicate with my practitioner any time I feel like my well-being is being compromised.

I understand that massage practitioners do not diagnose illness, disease, or any physical or mental disorder: nor do they prescribe medical treatment, pharmaceuticals, or perform spinal thrust manipulations. I acknowledge that massage is not a substitute for medical examination or diagnosis, and that it is recommended that I see a primary health care provider for that service.

I have stated all medical conditions that I am aware of and will update the massage practitioner of any changes in my health status.
